(a) whether it is a fact that the Reserve Bank of India and the Central Statistical Organisation issue separate figures concerning the State of the economy; if so, the reasons therefor;

(b) whether it is also a fact that some official committees have recommended that only one set of figures should be issued; and

(c) if so, the reasons for making a departure from this recommendation?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF PLANNING (SHRI SUKH RAM). (a) The Central Statistical Organisation (CSO) $i_s$ the official agency for release of estimates of national income, savings, etc. These estimates for a financial year are issued in the month of January of the following year. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) while commenting on the performance of the economy in their Report on Currency and Finance also presents the estimates of national income on the basis of CSO estimates of the earlier years and estimated increase in agricultural and industrial production upto July each year. It also gives ihe rates of $saving_s$ of the economy and utilises the CSO data on the public sector savings and a part of "the savings of the household sector. These estimates are subsequently revised by them when latest CSO data becomes available in January. There are thus differences between the two sets of estimates primarily because of the additional 'data and detailed work done by the CSO in the intervening period of July to December.

(b) A working Group on Savings set up by the Government of India under the Chairmanship of- Prof. K. N. Raj to- undertake a critical review of the available estimates of saving and investment in the economy recomended inter-alia in its report that the two set of estimates of saving of the CSO & RBI should not be different except because of the differences in the time of preparation and release of respective estimates. Accordingly, the two agencies are in continuous dialogue and a number of issues have already been sorted out and it is expected that the remaining issues would be resolved in the course of the current year.

(c) There is no deparMre from the recommendations of the Raj Committee and the same are being implemented.
